Green Technology Marketplace 2021

International symposium to promote overseas transfer for environmental technology of Japan

Hosted by:

Meiji University Center for Polymer Science

Partner of WIPO GREEN

Co-hosted by:

The Centre for Environmental Law, Meiji University

Sponsored by:

Meiji University Headquarters of International Collaboration,
Meiji University Organization for the Strategic Coordination of Research and Intellectual Properties,
The association of Meiji University Professional Engineers,
and IPEJ Research Committee for WIPO GREEN

Given the related endeavors around the world, typified by WIPO GREEN of WIPO (World Intellectual Property Organization), this international symposium will address:

- (1) how to realize the overseas transfer for environmental technology of Japan; and
- (2) the research subjects and conceivable solutions for the purpose of realizing sustainable development in the Asia and Pacific countries as well as certain SDGs through the said transfer, in the discussion by a range of researchers and experts invited from abroad and from inside Japan, with an eye on the social institutional interface indispensable for social implementation of science and technology (for example, relevant measures; laws and regulations; fiscal spending).
