- (25.1) Sartre shares with Kierkegaard the idea that:
- [A] God has devised a plan within which man's purpose lies.
  - [B] man must put his faith in God's purpose for man.
  - [C] man must create God by his own choice in order to know the meaning and purpose of life.
- (25.2) Sartre shares with Kierkegaard the idea that:
- [A] meaning in life is based upon no one's free choices and commitments.
  - [B] we must entrust ourselves to take a "leap of faith" to a higher power.
  - [C] human beings are condemned to be free.

- (25.3) According to Sartre, to live in “bad faith” is to:
- [A] choose a conventional path in life.
  - [B] choose a religious path in life.
  - [C] refuse the anguish that goes along with meaning that one chooses in life.
  - [D] refuse to answer to God for the sins that one has committed.
